Community Planning Assistance for Wildfire (CPAW) Program

CPAW works with communities to reduce wildfire risk within the wildland-urban interface (WUI) through improved land use planning.

This fall, five communities will be selected through a competitive grant application process to receive technical assistance to reduce wildfire risk within their WUI.

Through the CPAW program, communities are provided with assistance in the form of land use planning, forestry expertise, policy specialists, and risk and hazard modeling. Assistance comes at no-cost to the community and all recommendations are voluntary. Community selection is based on criteria such as wildfire history, community need, and capacity.

The CPAW program is a partnership between Headwaters Economics and Wildfire Planning International. It is funded through a cooperative agreement with the U.S. Forest Service and private foundations.
